Nathanael's Song

In the field where you work
I see you sweat and your hands in the dirt
In the field where you work
I see you

On the road where you walk
I see you there with your friends as you talk
On the road where you walk
I see you

Under the tree where you sit
I see you there as you rest a bit
Under the tree where you sit
I see you

In the home where you live
I see your hands and the love that they give
In the home where you live
I see you

In the bed where you lie
I see your heart and the tears that you cry
In the bed where you lie
I see you

On your knees where you pray
I hear your heart and the words that you say
On your knees where you pray
I hear you
